DETAILED ACTION

This application is a 371 of PCT/NZ99/00227.

The after final amendment file don November 1, 2004, amending claims 12-13 and canceling claim 9, has been entered.

Claims 10 and 12-13 are pending and are under consideration.

Response to Arguments

In view of the amendment filed on November 1, 2004, finality of the previous office action has been withdrawn. A new non-final rejection is set forth below.

Rejections and/or objections not reiterated from previous office actions are hereby withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to a non-statutory subject matter.

Claim 13, as written, do not sufficiently distinguish over a host cell comprising a polynucleotide encoding a polypeptide of SEQ ID NO: 7 as they exist naturally because the claims do not particularly point out any non-naturally occurring differences between the claimed products and the naturally occurring products. The polynucleotide encoding the polypeptide of SEQ ID NO:7 was obtained from Perna canaliculus. Therefore, a Perna canaliculus host cell can endogenously express the polynucleotide encoding the polypeptide of SEQ ID NO:7. In the absence of the hand of man, the naturally occurring products are considered non-statutory subject matter. See Diamond v. Chakrabarty, 447 U.S. 303, 206 USPQ 193 (1980). The claims should be amended to indicate the hand of the inventor, e.g., by insertion of "transformed" as taught by the specification. See MPEP 2105.

Art Unit: 1652

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 10 and claims 12-13 depending therefrom are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 10 recites the phrase "a polypeptide with the function of". The phrase is confusing because "serine protease inhibitor" and "divalent cation binding agent" is a description of the activity of the encoded polypeptide. This rejection can be overcome by replacing "function" with "activity".

None of the claims are allowable.
